Tailored Transport Solutions

Lawrence Transportation Services, operating through its subsidiaries, is a regional full-service transportation company offering a portfolio of quality logistical services to the market.

Tailored Transport Solutions

LAWRENCE TRANSPORTATION SERVICES has been in the transportation business for more than fifty years. We began as a for-hire carrier and expanded into full service leasing, growing with our customers and strategically acquiring other companies. Today LAWRENCE TRANSPORTATION SERVICES and subsidiary companies offer a wide range of supply-chain logistics, from truckload delivery to the operation of dedicated private fleets. Our customized distribution systems are designed to fulfill the specific requirements of each shipper.

Integrated

Multiple Choices

LAWRENCE TRANSPORTATION SERVICES is an asset-based company. Through its subsidiaries, we own trucks, employ drivers and operate maintenance shops and warehouses. We are also a knowledge-based company with expertise in computerized routing, satellite tracking, and electronic data interchange. We haul refrigerated product, cross dock and manage customer inventories for just-in-time delivery. You can choose one service package or let us do it all.

Freight Management

Let's look at the most basic service—you have less than a truckload and you just need it delivered. The product could move on a LAWRENCE for-hire truck, or it might be part of a leasing customer's backhaul or it could be handled by our brokerage operation. A non-asset freight broker could handle it but we have better ways to get the job done.

Vehicle Leasing

LAWRENCE has been a member of the NationalLease system for many years and still leases trucks to its original customers dating back to 1957. The NTLS system is comprised of 150 independent truck leasing companies, with 700 locations throughout US and Canada, that come together under the NTLS banner for the purposes of reciprocal service and group purchasing. Combined purchasing power earns good pricing from OEMs, so monthly power and trailer rates are very competitive. Right-sized units with driver-friendly features are important and we know how to write specs for optimum cost-benefit.

We maintain leased units in dedicated shops staffed with skilled mechanics and stocked with ample parts inventories. Substitute equipment and peak-season rentals are available, and we are part of a 24-hour road-service network. With a full-service lease from LAWRENCE, you don't have to worry about licenses, permits, insurance or fuel-tax reporting. We have additional on board computer capacity available to help customers maximize truck production and manage their fuel expense.

Quality

Trucking

The range of options LAWRENCE provides includes contract carriage, truckload, less-than-truckload and agency agreements. We specialize in multi-stop regional operations but also can handle dedicated operations for fleets traveling through out the United States and Canada.

Administration

If truck ownership is better than leasing or dedicated carriage, we can handle the difficult details. We provide as many services, or as few, as you really need to outsource. Choose contract maintenance, permits and taxes, fuel purchasing, driver selection, DOT compliance, safety programs—the list is long. Customers have the ability to go online and look at the cost of each individual truck or their fleet by tapping directly into our software system. We can also help manage customer fuel programs to ensure they receive the highest and best fuel consumption and cost programs. With a custom-designed system from LAWRENCE, you can focus on your core business. These services are also available to carrier or private fleets under our "Fleet Administration Program" for those who need expert backup.

Warehousing and Distribution

Warehouse space available is food grade, temperature controlled as well as dry. We store chilled and deep-frozen product and deliver it on a JIT schedule. If your product is not cold, we can handle inspection, sorting, light assembly, labeling, packaging, dry storage, palletizing, van delivery—every aspect of the order fulfillment process.

Solutions

Local Ownership

Ours is not a big impersonal company headquartered in a distant city, with a revolving cast of contacts you never get to know. We are a capable, reputable transportation company owned and managed by people in your neighborhood—folks you will get to know. Talk to a team member to learn how LAWRENCE TRANSPORTATION SERVICES can improve your distribution system.
